

Abstract

Mixtures of organic emissive semiconductors and matrix materials, their use and electronic components comprising said materials

5

The present invention relates to new types of material mixtures composed of at least two substances, one serving as a matrix material and the other being an emission material capable of emission and containing at least one element of atomic number greater than 20, and for their use in organic electronic components such as electroluminescent elements and displays.

10